

INSTRUCTOR

Louise I. Borke
North Andover, MA

Currently, a risk management specialist with her own consulting practice, Borke has been a banker and financial analyst for over twenty-five years. She is credit trained and spent the first part of her career in commercial banking, lending to large corporations and to the broker/dealer industry. Her international experience in the Asia/Pacific region results from the six years she spent with Bankers Trust Company (now DeutscheBank) in New York and Hong Kong, selling a broad array of financial services products to international financial institutions. Borke worked for twenty years for State Street Bank and Trust Company, and two years at Barclays Bank. Although she held several line positions managing various divisions during her career at State Street, her last position at as a vice president and Credit and Risk Officer in the Enterprise Risk Management area of the bank. She earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in Economics from the Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania and has published a number of articles on risk management.