

INSTRUCTOR

Phillip R. DeCarlo
Lodi, New Jersey

DeCarlo, currently an Assistant Professor in the Division of Business and Management at Felician College in New Jersey, recently retired from a 38 year career in banking and consulting. Prior to joining the Bank of New York as a Senior Training and Development Specialist, DeCarlo held positions in retail branch and sales management, CRA, business development, and small business banking. DeCarlo also co-founded and supervised the Credit Training Program at Rainier National Bank in Seattle. He received his B.A. in Business Administration from Parsons College and his M.B.A. in General Management and Finance from Seattle University and graduated from the Pacific Coast Banking School at the University of Washington.