

INSTRUCTOR

Andre Horovitz
Managing Director
Nagler & Company
Munich, Germany

Horovitz has spent 19 years working in risk management and international capital markets. He began his career in financial engineering at Lehman Brothers, New York in 1988. Horovitz moved on to Oliver, Wyman where he became a Managing Director, responsible for the firm's Frankfurt Office. Subsequently, he has held senior risk-management-related executive positions with Commerzbank, HVB Group, Erste Bank, and Credit Suisse.

Currently, Horovitz is the Managing Director at Nagler & Company; a German-based consulting firm specializing in capital markets and quantitative finance.

Horovitz holds an MBA in Finance from New York University's Leonard Stern School of Business and a diploma in Hydraulic Engineering from the Technical University of Bucharest, Romania. He lectures on Financial Risk Management and Applied Mathematics for Risk Management at the Technical University of Munich, Germany.