

INSTRUCTOR

Vaughn C. Pearson
Pearson & Associates
Dallas, TX

Pearson has broad-based senior management experience in the financial services, consulting, and accounting industries. He has served in executive roles of Chief Lending Officer and Chief Credit Officer in Dallas-area banks and thrifts for more than 25 years. In addition, he has 10 years of experience with major firms involved with the financial services consulting: Computer Sciences Corporation, Deloitte & Touche, and EDS, where his activities included roles as subject matter expert in lending and collections redesign in Federal contracts, leader of control self-assessment engagements for large insurance companies, and overseer of credit risk system implementations at regional banks. As part of his current consulting practice, he serves in supervisory oversight roles at troubled institutions on behalf of regulatory agencies, and has been fully vetted by the FDIC for leading asset liquidation teams in failed banks.

Pearson also has an international speaking practice, having served on the faculties of the Risk Management Association (RMA) and the Southwestern Graduate School of Banking for more than 30 years. He is an adjunct professor at LeTourneau University, and has authored numerous articles for professional journals on topics ranging from corporate governance to small business development activities. Pearson holds a B.A. from Duke University and an M.B.A. from Tulane University.
