

Federal Reserve Bank Economic Update and Outlook

Fall Event

Speaker

Chad Wilkerson is Branch Executive of the Kansas City Fed's Oklahoma City Branch office. In this role, he serves as the Bank's lead officer and regional economist in the state of Oklahoma. Wilkerson is responsible for recruiting and working with the Branch's board of directors and for briefing the Kansas City Fed's president — a member of the Federal Open Market Committee — on economic activity in the state. His research focuses on trends in the industrial structure and labor markets of the Tenth Federal Reserve District. He also supervises several business surveys for the Kansas City Fed.

Event Overview

How will the Oklahoma economy fair in 2015 and for the next few years? What considerations should your firm make based on local state, U.S. and global economics? Join the RMA Oklahoma Chapter at our Annual Economic Update and Outlook luncheon to hear Chad Wilkerson discuss the future of Oklahoma business, employment, interest rates, energy and real estate. This event has become a favorite for our members.
