After completing this two-day course, you will establish a foundation in the following areas of study:

- Business and industry risk analysis
- Management analysis
- Financial statement analysis
- Financial drivers
- Forecasting
- Loan structuring

In addition to creating a framework for applying financial statement analysis, you will learn the specifics of business risk analysis and loan structuring. Covenants, collateral, and terms and conditions of lending will also be covered.

Who will benefit?

This course is designed for financial personnel as part of their overall education to enable them to service customer needs. This course will be particularly beneficial for:

- Commercial lending officers.
- Relationship managers

- Cash management personnel.
- Credit analysts
- Branch managers with business loan responsibilities

You will:

- Develop a comprehensive framework to analyze businesses and structure financial solutions.
- Create value-added services through a relationship planning and financial advisory orientation to client management.
- Perform financial statement analysis to help clients achieve business objectives while ensuring repayment of debt.
- Connect qualitative information about the company with quantitative information gathered through financial statement analysis.
- Identify the sources of debt available to commercial clients.

RMA Lending Academy I

Coming Soon

Hosted by Relyance Bank

3Q2016

Little Rock, Arkansas

Course Overview

RMA Lending Academy I teaches basic core skills for commercial lending and credit. You should use it as a springboard to RMA's core credit risk curriculum. This introduction to commercial lending and credit will help you better understand what your customers need in order to run a strong business and what the bank needs in order to make sound lending decisions.

RMA Lending Academy I covers three fundamental topics- accounting, financial statement analysis (including tax returns), and cash flow analysis-for lending to small, closely held businesses

Who will benefit?

RMA Lending Academy I is designed for credit risk professionals who are new to banking (0 to 3 years), such as new hires, branch managers, those new to commercial lending, business development officers, relationship officers and others who are required to read financial statements and tax returns.
