The Art and Opportunity of Self-Advocacy
RMA St. Louis Women’s Event
March 7, 2019

The Art and Opportunity of Self-Advocacy
Speaker: Professor Hillary A. Sale
Thursday, March 7, 2019

Self-Advocacy is a 365, 24/7, day-to-day opportunity. Women excel at advocating passionately and effectively for our clients, teams, friends, and families but often miss opportunities or set up our own barriers to advocating impactfully for ourselves. This keynote talk will focus on developing self-advocacy skills that can advance our careers, our teams and our networks.

Agenda:
5:30 p.m. – 6:15 p.m. Networking
Hors d’oeuvre and drinks provided.

6:15 p.m. – 7:30 p.m. Program

Location:
Carrollton Bank
7911 Forsyth, 4th Floor
Clayton, Missouri 63105
(Garage parking available at Forsyth entrance.)

Cost:
$50 Members / $60 Non-Members

Contact: Rose Corbett, Chapter Administrator
Phone: (636) 220-6292
E-mail: rmast.louis@gmail.com
RMA St. Louis Women’s Event
The Art and Opportunity of Self-Advocacy
Thursday, March 7, 2019

To pay by credit card, go to the RMA St. Louis website (http://community.rmahq.org/stlouis/home?ssopc=1) to enter your attendees and credit card information.

To be sent an invoice, complete the form below and return it to Rose Corbett at rmast.louis@gmail.com.

To pay by check, payments can be sent via mail to:

RMA St. Louis Chapter
Attn: Rose Corbett
PO Box 220824
St. Louis, MO 63122

Company Name: ____________________________________________

Contact Person: ____________________________________________

Email Address: ______________________  Phone Number: ____________

Names of Attendees: _________________________________________

___________________________________________________________

Number of attendees at the RMA Member Rate: _______ x $50.00

Number of attendees at the RMA Non-Member Rate: _______ x $60.00

No refunds or cancellations after March 6, 2019.
Professor Hillary A. Sale is an award-winning teacher, a Professor of Law at Georgetown Law, and an Affiliated Faculty Member at the McDonough School of Business, at Georgetown University. She teaches courses on Leadership, Women and Leadership, and Corporate Law and Governance. In the spring of 2017, she was the Sullivan & Cromwell Visiting Professor of Law at Harvard Law School, where she taught Women’s Leadership and Corporate Boards and Governance.

She is an expert on and frequent speaker to industry groups and academic audiences about leadership and corporate governance and was selected by the St. Louis Business Journal as a “2014 Most Influential Business Women.” In addition to running leadership and other programs in industry, Professor Sale has taught in multiple executive education programs, including the Harvard Law School Law Firm Leaders Program and various programs through the Washington University Olin School of Business.

Professor Sale is a member of the FINRA Board of Governors, where she serves on the Nominating and Governance, Compensation, and Regulatory Operations Committees. She is also a member of the Advisory Board of Foundation Press, and the Advisory Board of DirectWomen, a nonprofit focused on increasing the presence of women on public company boards. She is Chair of the DirectWomen Board Institute and also works in industry training executives on leadership, governance, and risk management.

Before entering academia, Sale was a law clerk to The Honorable Richard S. Arnold, Chief Judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit, practiced with the law firm of WilmerHale LLP, and was Chief of Staff and Director of Operations for Evelyn F. Murphy, the Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts. She graduated magna cum laude from Harvard Law School and holds a master’s degree in Economics from Boston University, where she also completed her B.A., summa cum laude. Prior to joining the Georgetown faculty, she was the F. Arnold Daum Chair in Corporate Finance and Law at the University of Iowa College of Law and the Walter D. Coles Professor of Law and a Professor of Management at Washington University in St. Louis.